Pastor's Thoughts to Ponder

Ye Shall Have a Song
(Isaiah 30:29a)

This long chapter starts out with a "woe" in vs 1. Many of the people, in a time of great troubles and fears, were contemplating running to Egypt to escape all their troubles and to find protection. The Lord sends word to His people by the prophet, in vs 7, and tells them, "their strength is to stand still". Egypt cannot help them and they will be worse off if they go.

In vs 9, God begins to reveal unto His people why so many terrible things are happening. They have rebelled against their God, despised His word, and are under His judgment. In vs 15, He informs the people that if they will turn back to Him and trust in Him (not Egypt), that in their confidence in God, they would be strengthened and safe; but He concludes with, "and ye would not". In vs 16-22, another warning is given to the people not to go. He tells them in vs 18, that He is patiently waiting for them to repent, and if they will do so, a better day is awaiting them because of their obedience and faith in Him. In vs 23-26, is another reminder of how their land and city can be blessed if they will do as He has instructed them. Vs 27-28 is a reminder of the terrible things that will transpire unto those who do not. But, vs 29, for those who trust in Him, "Ye shall have a song!"

Looking down through vs 29-32, we are given details as to what the words of this song will be:

The gladness of heart to those that believed what God told them.
God truly rules over all things and will be victorious in the end.
The Lord will be seen and heard, and show forth His great power.
The enemies of God will perish.
All of God's people will rejoice over all He does for them.

It seems like everybody wants us to trust in them today. They promise if you do what they say, you will be better off; just believe in me and you will not be sorry. If we buy into what people who do not know God tell us, we, like many in this chapter, will trust in Egypt (worldliness), and not God: flesh and not faith. We will fall for the present and lose out in the future.

Let us consider, as the Lord told Israel, "sit still" (vs 7), and reflect on what the Lord has told us in His Word. Maybe there is a need as stated in vs 15, to return to the Lord, rest in Him (complete trust), and "ye shall be saved". Maybe, as stated in vs 18, you know that God is waiting for you to return unto Him so "that He might be gracious unto you", and "have mercy upon you", for "blessed are all they that wait for Him"!

God is not going to wait forever, as stated in vs 33.
For many, it will be a day of great sadness.
Yet, for many, it can and will be a day to sing a great song for a great God.
